

The One Hundred question list<sup>1</sup>

Use any of those questions to challenge your students when using Think/Pair/Re-pair in class

1. What if humans had the ability to breathe underwater?
2. What if time travel were possible, but only to the past?
3. What if all languages suddenly became one universal language?
4. What if there was no concept of money or currency in society?
5. What if we could communicate with animals?
6. What if there were no more borders or countries?
7. What if technology advanced to the point where we could live on other planets?
8. What if there were no more limitations on human lifespan?
9. What if we could control the weather?
10. What if art and creativity were no longer subjective?
11. What if everyone had photographic memory?
12. What if we discovered intelligent life on another planet?
13. What if emotions could be controlled or turned on and off at will?
14. What if there were no consequences for our actions?
15. What if we could relive any moment from our past?
16. What if we could see into the future, but only once?
17. What if dreams were a shared experience that everyone could participate in?
18. What if there were no natural disasters?
19. What if education was solely based on individual interests and passions?
20. What if people could instantly heal from any injury or illness?
21. What if we could access all human knowledge with a thought?

---

<sup>1</sup> Created by ChatGPT-3.5

22. What if privacy no longer existed?
23. What if we could manipulate time to age at our own pace?
24. What if our world had different laws of physics?
25. What if the internet suddenly disappeared?
26. What if we could experience life from another person's perspective?
27. What if humans could fly without any technology?
28. What if we could understand and communicate with extraterrestrial life?
29. What if music had the power to heal physical ailments?
30. What if people could change their appearance at will?
31. What if there were no more societal norms or expectations?
32. What if there was no such thing as a physical body?
33. What if everyone knew the exact date of their own death?
34. What if we could revisit past civilizations and learn their secrets?
35. What if the concept of time itself ceased to exist?
36. What if all of humanity's knowledge vanished overnight?
37. What if we discovered a way to tap into unlimited clean energy?
38. What if there were no more written or spoken words?
39. What if we could experience the sensation of any taste, smell, or touch without physical interaction?
40. What if consciousness could be transferred from one body to another?
41. What if we could understand the thoughts of others without them speaking?
42. What if there was no concept of good or evil?
43. What if dreams were glimpses into alternate realities?
44. What if gravity suddenly ceased to exist?
45. What if we could access any memory from history?
46. What if we could relive significant historical events as witnesses?

47. What if there were no mirrors or reflective surfaces?
48. What if animals possessed human-level intelligence?
49. What if we could explore the deepest parts of the ocean as easily as we explore land?
50. What if people could choose their age when they reached adulthood?
51. What if all transportation was instantaneous?
52. What if there were no more lies or deception?
53. What if there was no such thing as sleep?
54. What if we could experience the full range of human emotions within a single day?
55. What if we could control our own dreams like a movie?
56. What if we could understand the emotions and thoughts of all living beings?
57. What if humans could communicate with nature and the elements?
58. What if there were no divisions based on gender or sexuality?
59. What if we could change our physical form based on our emotions?
60. What if art and music were the primary means of communication?
61. What if we could tap into the collective knowledge and wisdom of all previous generations?
62. What if there were no physical limitations to exploration, such as distance, time, or energy?
63. What if humans could hibernate like animals?
64. What if emotions and experiences were represented as vivid colors visible to all?
65. What if we could instantly transport to any place in the universe?
66. What if we could interact with characters from books and stories as if they were real people?
67. What if everyone had access to telepathy but could only use it for good?
68. What if we could control our own perception of time?

69. What if the world was illuminated only by bioluminescent organisms?
70. What if we could reverse the aging process at will?
71. What if people could create their own pocket dimensions to escape to?
72. What if humans were capable of empathizing with inanimate objects?
73. What if everyone had the ability to heal emotional pain in others?
74. What if laughter had the power to cure illness?
75. What if our dreams had a direct impact on our waking lives?
76. What if we could communicate with our ancestors through dreams?
77. What if there were no physical limitations to the size or scale of buildings and structures?
78. What if there were no borders, and the world was a single global community?
79. What if we could understand the perspectives and thoughts of individuals from different time periods?
80. What if we had access to alternate dimensions with different laws of physics?
81. What if all diseases were preventable and curable?
82. What if emotions and sensations were represented as unique smells?
83. What if people had the power to instantly create works of art with their minds?
84. What if all human beings possessed the ability to fly, but only at night?
85. What if we could travel back in time to witness significant historical events?
86. What if we could experience the sensations of other living creatures, such as animals or plants?
87. What if we could visit other planets in our dreams and gather knowledge from them?
88. What if there were no more natural disasters, such as earthquakes or hurricanes?
89. What if we could communicate with celestial beings from other dimensions?
90. What if humans had the ability to instantly learn any skill or language?
91. What if music had the power to change the weather or climate?

92. What if the concept of ownership and possession no longer existed?
93. What if we could alter the laws of physics at will, creating our own realities?
94. What if we could experience the entire range of human history as a collective memory?
95. What if we could understand the language of the stars and cosmic phenomena?
96. What if there were no limitations on the human lifespan, and individuals could choose when to pass on?
97. What if emotions and thoughts were represented as intricate patterns of light?
98. What if humans could communicate with all forms of life, including microscopic organisms?
99. What if we could witness the birth and death of stars in real-time?
100. What if every individual possessed the innate ability to heal the natural world through their actions?

